

Middle School/ Home School Fact Sheet

We are a program that provides content for school use. Middle school courses were initially designed for credit recovery. We do not offer a full middle school curriculum. There are no Science or Related Arts courses offered at this time, and there are fewer than 6 grading periods offered in all other subject areas. Anyone wishing to purchase our content for home school use will need to supplement home school instruction with other materials or programs.

Final Exams must be proctored by eSchool staff at the Dawson Orman Education Center.

The current cost per course is $45. This means one content area for one six week period and should be supplemented with other materials. The cost for three courses is $125. (For example, 6th Grade Mathematics- Fractions would be $45. 6th Grade Mathematics- Fractions + 6th Grade Reading- Grading Period 1 + 6th Grade Argument Writing would be $125.)

Anyone wishing to use our content for home school should go to the Jefferson County Board of Education to withdraw their student from the school system and present their statement of intent to home school. The parent or other home school provider assumes all the responsibilities of the school. This includes all record keeping (grades, attendance, etc).
